

BIOVID IS HIRING

Since day one, BioVid's formula for success has been to foster a collaborative, supportive culture where incredibly talented people are encouraged to be the best at what they do.

If you are a highly adaptable person with a diverse organizational toolkit who enjoys collaborating with multi-disciplinary teams and playing an integral role in the successful completion of meaningful and influential research projects, we encourage you to explore our Implementation Manager role.

With excellence in communication, intellectual creativity and eagle-eye scrutiny you'll manage, anticipate and troubleshoot the highly complex logistical nature of global market research projects. If you are someone who loves seeing projects through from start to finish, appreciates buttoned-up project management, gets excited by creative problem solving, and enjoys working with talented, multi-disciplinary teams on forward-thinking, engaging initiatives, then this is the role for you.

WHAT YOU'LL DO

While we invite applicants to help expand our thinking about the role based on what they can bring to us, the core duties of an Implementation Manager at BioVid currently involves

- Play a central role in project management including timeline allocation, budget accountability, vendor procurement/management, fielding execution and data management, providing expert guidance to internal team members and clients.
- Partner with research teams and external partners to ensure successful project execution.
- Consult with project teams to understand study objectives and provide guidance on BioVid standards, compliance requirements, appropriate methodology and path to project success.
- Assist in the development of best-in-class project materials, including screeners, questionnaires, discussion guides, reports and infographics.
- Immerse yourself in all quality control processes and data processing activities across data collection & management and report production.
- Play a meaningful role in the training and development of junior staff.
- Play a meaningful role in cultivating BioVid's company culture and evolution by participating in organizational initiatives (e.g., committees, innovation, client relationship building).

WHO YOU ARE

Who you are matters to us as much as what you do.

A BioVidian playing the role of Implementation Manager has the following traits and qualifications:

- Deep sense of humanity and humor, especially during busy times.
- Courage and flexibility to explore new territories and tackle new challenges.
- Joy in exploring big ideas and applying them to real-world challenges.
- Pentchant for creative problem solving and raising the bar.
- Experience and excitement for both qualitative and quantitative research.
- Strong attention to detail without losing the forest for the trees.
- Bachelor's degree required; Master's in relevant field preferred.
- 3+ years of market research industry experience required; 5+ years preferred.
- Experience in health care market research preferred

MEET OUR CURRENT IMPLEMENTATION MANAGERS

As part of our team, you'd be in excellent company. In our view, we have some of the best Implementation Managers in the business. Don't believe us? Check out the LinkedIn profiles of four of our best and brightest

Heather Kemmerer

Sam Gwiazdowski

Kristi Strembicki

Roman Hryvna

HOW TO APPLY:

If you think you are ready to do dive into meaningful, interesting research at BioVid, please send your resume and a cover letter telling us why to hring@biovid.com